President and Cabinet Submit Large Estimate of Expenditures

TO HAVE MORE FUNDS

Increase Due to Defense Program and Cost of Tasks Imposed by Present European War.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The largest estimate of government expenditures ever submitted to a Secretary of the Treasury of the United States in time of peace—probably $1,240,000,000—will be presented for the next fiscal year today, as required by law, for discussion by congressional committees in advance of the regular session. President Wilson and his Cabinet will examine the list in detail next week.

An estimated increase for national defense of about $150,000,000 over last year, together with the cost of new tasks imposed upon the State Department and other branches because of the European war, account for this. The estimates of all departments, excepting State, War and Navy, remain practically the same.

If Congress agrees to the administration's program for strengthening the army and navy, it will be obliged to provide for additional revenue by legislation or the executive branch of the government must issue bonds.

Since the estimates of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1916, in which the increased expenditures will take effect, has been made by Secretary McAdoo, officials now are convinced they can not count upon more than $750,000,000 for the twelve months.

Congress will be asked to pass two revenue measures, one extending the emergency war tax, which expires December 31, and the other providing for retention of the duty on sugar beyond next May, when it would go on the free list. Passage of these measures, however, would not increase the present revenues, With both in effect at present there has been a deficit of $35,000,000.

Additional force in the diplomatic and consular service and at the State Department and extraordinary expenses abroad in the work being done by American embassies and legations will require an increase of about $1,300,000 for the State Department.

The ordinary disbursements of the government last year were about $732 000,000. If the income of $750,000,000 and the appropriations of all government departments but the State, War and Navy remain the same, there still would be, with added budget for national defense, an estimated deficit of more than $135,000,000. The Secretary of the Treasury has authority to issue Panama Canal bonds, to the amount of $240,000,000. That would be a temporary remedy, however, and may not be resorted to if the administration proceeds on the theory that the government will maintain the same rate of expenditures for national defense during the coming years as now is being proposed for the next session of Congress.

Estimates for the Department of Commerce will show an increase over last year's total —$16,774,000—if they are agreed upon in the form now before Secretary Redfield, The principal request for more money will come from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, which desires to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the war to extend its foreign trade organization. Secretary Redfield probably will ask for the funds necessary for that work.

The Department of Labor contemplates few changes in its estimates, which last year amounted to $4,443,000. Secretary Wilson is considering a reduction for the Bureau of Immigration, which has found its activities materially curtailed by the falling off of immigration during the European war.

The estimates for the Post-Office Department will be slightly above the $299,000,000 estimated for the present year. The increase is credited to the automatic promotions of carriers and clerks provided for by Congress, increased pay of railway transportation and the natural growth of the system.

In the Interior Department the estimates are less than the appropriation of $210,000,000 for the current year, excluding $8,000,000, for construction of the government railroad in Alaska.

Secretary Houston has not completed his estimate for the Department of Agriculture, but they will not vary much from the present appropriation of $24,000,000.

BRIDE BREAKS LEG.

Trips on Wedding Gown and Falls Down Stairs at Feet of Bridegroom—Weds in Hospital.

Yonkers, N. Y. Oct. 15.—Leaning on the arm of her father, her long bridal veil trailing out behind, Miss Ethel Petrick started down the stairs from the second floor of her home for her marriage to Louis E. Hann—the happiest moment in her life— when she tripped on her bridal gown of satin and tumbled down the steps, She landed at the flower canopied altar where the bridegroom and the clergyman, his attendants, the ushers, and the hundred or more guests were waiting.

Miss Petrick's right leg was broken in two places, and she was severely cut and bruised. Mr. Hann, who is a chief petty officer attached to the battleship South Carolina, and the waiting clergyman, the Rev. Dr. John M. Ericsson, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, picked the young woman up and placed her on a couch while physicians were summoned.

Mr. Hann explained that he would have to join his ship within a few days and an immediate marriage was decided upon. The wedding took place in a hospital.

BIDS FOR SUMMER HOME

Congressman Carlin Will Introduce a Bill for Selection of Mount Weather

Washington, Oct. 15—President Wilson today accepted the invitation of the people of New Jersey to establish his summer capital next year at Long Branch, N. J.

The President and the future Mrs Wilson will live at the palatial summer home of the late John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance Company. The place is called Shadowlawn.

Washington, Oct. 15—New Jersey entered her bid today against Virginia and Maryland for the summer capital of the United States. A delegation of Jerseyans, headed by Congressman Scully, called upon the President and tendered him the McCall mansion, near Long Branch.

It has not been announced whether the delegation will offer this house as a permanent summer home for Presidents, or will merely expect Mr Wilson to occupy it during the remainder of his service as chief executive.

As soon as Congress reconvenes Congressman Carlin of Virginia, will reintroduce his bill to make Mount Weather, Loudoun County, Va., the official summer White House. This is a splendid piece of property, developed a few years ago by the Weather Bureaus Service for technical uses. It has been practically abandoned as a weather observatory, but is still owned by the government.

Also the movement to take over Monticello, near Charlottesville, by the government and convert it into a summer residence for the President will be renewed by Virginians in Congress. This property is owned by former Congressman Jefferson Levy, of New York, who is now willing to sell it if Congress is willing to buy.

Marylanders have proposed a number of convenient and delightful sites for a summer White House. Deer Park, in Garrett County, and Braddock Heights, in Frederick, are among those most widely discussed.

BRITISH ATTACK FOE'S WHOLE LINE

Warships Helping Army Ashore in Fighting Germans in West

TRENCHES ARE TAKEN

French Forces Also Keeping Enemy Busy In Many Districts to The Eastward

Berlin, Oct. 15.—A general attack by the British along almost the whole front from Ypres to Loos, accompanied by bombardment of the Belgian coast by warships, is reported in the official statement, from the War Office. All attacks of the British are said by army headquarters to have failed.

London, Oct., 15.—A British official statement tells of the latest offensive by the British troops between La Bassae and Arras. It reads as follows

"Wednesday afternoon after a bombardment, we attacked the enemy's trenches under cover of a cloud of smoke and gas from a point about 800 yards southwest of Hulluch to the Hohenzollern redoubt. We gained about 1000 yards of trenches just south and west of Hulluch, but were unable to maintain our positions there owing to the enemy's shellfire.

"Southwest of St. Elie, we captured and hold the enemy's trench behind the Vermelles-Hulluch, road and the southwestern edge of the quarries, both inclusive. We also captured a trench on the northwest face of the forest. We captured the main trench of the Hohenzollern redoubt, but the enemy is still in two communicating trenches between the redoubt and the quarries."

Paris, Oct. 15.—The following official communication is issued by the War office:

"Artillery duels have occured in Artois in the valley of the Souchez and the Givenchy wood. There has been cannonading on both sides, also on the Aisne front in the environs of Rheims and in Champagne near Auberrive and the Navarin farm. Quite violent engagements with bombs and torpedoes have taken place on the heights of the Meuse, in the sectors of Calonne and Troyon.

"In Lorraine the enemy directed against our positions in the region of Reillon a bombardment to which we replied effectively.

"A squadron of 20 aeroplanes yesterday bombarded the station at Bazancourt, behind the Champagne front One of our aeroplanes struck down a German captive ballon, which dropped to the south of Monthois. An enemy aeroplane was brought down by one of our machines to the north of the Aisne. It fell within the German lines to the north of Bucy le Long."

There has been a particularly violent artillery engagement in the Arpoise, northwest of Hill, No. 140, in which both sides took part, according to the statement given out by the War Office. There also has been active trench fighting in the vicinity of Libons.

In the Champagne the Germans have been throwing asphyxiating bombs on the French rear lines. German attack to the west of Tahure, has been repulsed by the French fire. In the Lorraine the cannonading between the autagonists has been almost continuous.

The Belgian official communication reads: "Quite prevails on our front."

Governor Stuart Orders Return of Martha Washington Document to Fairfax County

Richmond, Va. October, 15.— Governor Stuart, has ordered that the will of Martha Washington, recently returned to the state by J. Pierpont Morgan, be given into the custody of Fairfax county, from which it was stolen during the civil war. The famous document will be formally delivered to the chairman of the Fairfax board of supervisors on Monday and will be delivered to its former place in the courthouse. Gov. Stuart acted under a ruling of Attorney General Pollard, who held that the will must be returned to Fairfax County, as a part of the county's records, in compliance with the legislative act which authorized the State to bring suit against Mr. Morgan for its recovery.

FRENCH SHIP SUNK.

Attacked by Austrian Submarine in the Aegean Sea.

Marseille, Oct. 15.—The liner Mossoul, from Salonki, and Piraeus, which has arrived here, brought the crews of the French steamers Yunman, Provincia, and Sainte Marguerite, all of which were attacked by submarines in the Aegean Sea.

The Provincia and Sainte Marguerite sank, but the Yunnan has been towed into port for repairs. The Provincia, according to her officers, was shelled without warning by an Austrian submarine. The boats of the steamer were lowered and the crew was picked up by the transatlantic steamer Olympic.

It is asserted that the Yunnan was torpedoed without being warned. Eight men of the watch on deck were killed and five wounded by the explosion of the torpedo. The crew of 32 men of the Sainte Marguerite took to the small boats of the steamer when she was attacked and soon afterward the steamer went to the bottom.

Members of the crew declare that the submarine commander did not notify the captain of the Sainte Marguerite before he launched his torpedo.

GERMAN DYES HERE AT LAST

Doled Out in Small Lots to Cotton Manufacturers.

New York, Oct. 15.—With 50 tons of German coal tar dyes in her cargo, the steamship St. Louis, arrived yesterday from Liverpool. This is the largest shipment of German dye stuffs received in this country since last winter. The consignment was directed to William Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, but is intended for William A. Mitchell, of Lowell, Mass., acting for the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

The dye has been at Rotterdam for months and the British government permitted their transfer to America under an agreement that none of them shall be re-exported to an enemy country. It is understood that they will be parcelled out in small lots to New England cotton manufacturers and that other industries will have to await further shipments. In view of the urgent need the shipment is regarded as small.

DR. HILLIS SUED FOR LIBEL.

Nehew of Noted Pastor Seeks $50,000 Damages.

New York, Oct. 15.—Complaint in the libel suit of Percy D. Hillis against his uncle, Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, was filed Wednesday in the office of the county clerk in Brooklyn. Young Hillis demands $50,000 damages for alleged libelous statements which he charges his uncle caused to be published in Brooklyn and Portland, Ore., and which, the plaintiff avers, injuried him in his business standing, reputation and good name.

The libelous statements, the complaint says, were published intimations that the Brooklyn pastor had agreed to pay his nephew's obligations, due to his nephew's failure in the lumber business. These statements, the complaint charges, were false, and were known to be false by the defendant. Dr. Hillis was served with a summons in the suit two weeks ago.

FRICTION IN LABOR'S RANKS

Successor of Doherty as State Labor Commission is Issue

COLVIN A CANDIDATE

Former Alexandrian Says He Owes $7.93, Which He is Ready to Pay at Any Time Desired.

Richmond, Oct. 15.—Among the people who are affiliated with labor organizations there is no question of more moment at this time than that of the successor to James B. Doherty, as State Labor Commissioner.

As is well known, and always understood, there is friction in the ranks of the men belonging to the several labor bodies. Mr. Doherty has been in office for some time, and just now he is being opposed by a faction which is supporting Howard T. Colvin.

The recent sessions of the State Federation of Labor at Fredericksburg witnessed much that has a general bearing on the subject. The anti-Doherty forces made a protest against Mr. Doherty, it being common report that his deputy, John B. Clinedinst, was objectionable to many of the labor folks, and also that the chief clerk, in the office, Captain Charles M. Wallace, was not the possessor of a labor union card and that he was identified with the militia.

The attitude of the body to organized labor was set forth in a resolution offered by J. E. Reynolds, of this city, one of the delegates from the machinists' organization, was referred to the committee on resolutions, of which John Hirschberg, was chairman was recommended for adoption. and defeated by a vote of 61 to 50.

The attack on the militia was intended to be sent to Governor Stuart, in case of adoption, and it so happens that Governor Stuart is the commander-in-chief of the Virginia soldiers, The defeat of the resolution, however, prevented its being sent to His Excellency.

Howard T. Colvin, of Alexandria, said, when asked about the report that he was "short" in his accounts as secretary of the State Federation of Labor, and also as editor of the Labor News, the former newspaper recognized as the organ of organized labor, "Yes, it it strue. I owe the State Federation of Labor, $7.93. I am ready to pay at any time, I have been ready for some time. All they have to do is to let me know who to make the check to."

Governor Stuart will have the naming of a successor to Mr. Doherty before February 1st, and until he is ready to make an announcement there is ample latitude for guesses as to what he will do in the matter.

LONDON DARK AS PITCH.

New Lighting Regulations Makes it Easy to get Lost.

London, Oct. 14.—London's new lighting regulations are in force, and a city of blinded windows, screened skylights, shrouded street lamps and generally subdued and smothered appearance has taken on an even darker hue. Londoners have grown accustomed to this funereal aspect of the city, but it is none the less strange and disquieting to the foreigner. In vain one looks for the blaze of light which used to flood Piccadilly Circus and the Leicester Square, and unless he is an adept in finding his way around the city at night he is likely to become lost in an obscurity as complete and baffing as that of the traditional London fog.

Well-known streets have lost their principal features and become merged into a sort of negative resemblance to all other streets. They begin and end in darkness, and their fantastic aspect is increased by dim statues and monuments and once familiar arcades

The appearance of the buses with red lights under the stairs, shining on the passengers as they pass in and out, is another detail which makes the scene weird and unreal.

He also said his law practice in Washington keeps him busy.

Mr. Mackey's withdrawal leaves three candidates in the race, Finney, Ball, and Jesse.

PRIMA DONNA AT OPERA HOUSE

Miss Elizabeth Reynolds, the prima donna soprano, who, on account of illness, was unable to keep her engagement at the Opera House, Monday evening, appeared last evening, in the role of leading lady, in the musical comedy, presented before a large audience, by James F. Green, entitled, "The Honey-moon Girls," which proved to be a scream from start to finish.

The blackfaced and Dutch comedians, kept the audience in a fit of laughter with their songs, parodies and jokes, while the girls proved to be sure enough rose bud maidens, with pretty musical numbers.

MOTHER KILLS CHILDREN.

Safeguard Other Little Ones Which Had Been In Her Care.

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.— Sealing the upper rooms of her home to make sure of death, Mrs. Rosa Hagar, 28 years old, a widow, of No. 2026 South Cleveland avenue, turned on the gas early Tuesday morning, and killed herself and three children. To safeguard two other children placed in her care by the Children's Aid Society, Mrs. Hagar, locked them in the parlor and stopped all crevises to exclude the deadly fumes.

Fear that she was going blind and would be left helpless with her little ones dependent upon her is believed to have been the principal cause that led to the tragedy. She had difficulty in maintaining her home, as it was, neighbors said.

Not only did the woman prevent the escape of the gas by plugging all keyholes with soap, and the crevices around the doors with rags, but she also took the precaution of nailing shut the windows of her front bedroom.

SETS HERSELF AFLAME

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—Alone and discouraged, Mrs. May Daugherty, 27 years old, of Camden, made an effort to end her troubles Tuesday by setting fire to her clothes. Neighbors were attracted to the house by agonizing cries, and when they saw the woman enveloped in flames summoned a motorcycle policeman, who happened to be passing. A police automobile hurried the suffering woman to Cooper Hospital, where it was found that she was burned all over the body, She was in a serious condition last night.

Notwithstanding the frightful burns were being dressed by the physicians. She said she wanted to die because her husband had threatened to "put her away."

Representative Women Interview Martin and Swanson in Richmond

FEAR COLORED WOMEN

Petitioners Say They Would Not Become More Active That Colored Men Who Are Suffragans.

Richmond, Oct. 15.— Members of the delegation representing the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage who called on Senator Martin and Swanson, this week drew much encouragement from the conference, and regard as significant the exchange, of views, which are set out in the following report of the conversation, which has been made public:.

Mrs. Meredith: We want your help in Congress to bring about the submission of the Susan B. Anthony amendment. We do not ask you to vote for suffrage.

Mrs. Meredith reminded the Senators that it was the Southern delegates, including Washington and Madison, who represented Virginia, who were in favor of the clause providing that amendment to the constitution should be ratified by three-fourths of the States: Only Northen delegates opposed it.

Mr. Martin: You need not argue that point with me. I know that the amendment would not be an invasion of States' rights. (Applause).

Mrs. Meredith: The enfranchising of colored women need not be put forward as an objection to this amendment, as there are in the Southern States more white women than there are colored men and women together.

Mr. Martin: But the colored women would vote and the white women would not.

Mrs. Meredith: I believe it would be exactly the opposite, judging from our experience in Virginia with colored men. They do not vote in as large numbers as the white men.

Mrs. Meredith, then said that suffrage was coming; that nothing could stop it; that refusal to aid the Anthony amendment would not stop it, and that the Senators ought, therefore to help advance the measure.

Senator Swanson: If it is so surely coming then you have no need of this amendment.

Mrs. Meredith: We do not want to have to get it in the slowest and most roundabout way. We do not want to be humiliated by having to ask every man for what is our right. It is far more proper that suffrage should be referred by Congress to our representatives in the State Legislatures, and we now have power in Congress, One-fourth of the Senate, one-sixth of the House and one-fifth of the electoral college come from States where women vote.

Mrs. Flannagan: We come to you as Virginia women who have done much for the State. It ought to be your pleasure to give women the vote.

Mr. Swanson: You do not look as if you need it.

Mrs. Meredith: But there are others What of the other women who need our support and protection?

Mr. Swanson: I will reconsider the question.

DICKENS' MARITAL INFELICITIES.

Dickens and his wife (Catherine Hogarth) separated by mutual agreement in 1858, the eldest son going with his mother and the other children with their father.

Dickens wrote to one of his friends that he and Mrs. Dickens had lived together unhappily for many years as "we are in all respects of character and temperament wonderfully unsuited to each other." He also wrote: "'Nothing has, on many occasions, stood between us and a separation but Mrs .Dickens' sister, Georgine Holgarth," He said, "the peculiarity of her character has thrown all the care of the children on someone else."

The "peculiarity" referred to seems to have been nothing more than laziness and disinclination to care for the house and children, which was provoking to her husband, But, on the other hand, Dickens had the faults of the literary temperament—irritability sensitiveness and intolerance of dullness. He died June 9, 1870, unreconciled to his wife.

For nearly three score years admirers of the Great English novelist have speculated on the fact that he and his wife could not get along together. Dickens left but little upon which to base an opinion, and the above should be taken with a grain of salt.

One of Dickens' biographers uses the following significant language: "Mrs. Dickens' intellect developed slowly." The fact that the novelist's wife was unable to appreciate his genius or to sympathize with him in his arduous labors, probably is the key to her "peculiarities."

For many years Georgine Hogarth, was his confidential companion. She was endowed with brilliancy which fitted her to be the companion of a man of Dickens' mould. She accompanied him to the United States, and on many of his tours in England and on the continent.

"Agnes" in David Copperfield was doubtless Dickens' idea of a peerless woman. Miss Hogarth, may have furnished him the model, as this book is believed to bein the main the novelist's biography.

CANNON AND CHURCH BELLS.

The Norfolk Ledger Dispatch calls attention to the fact that the scriptures allude to the turning of spears into pruning hooks and pruning hooks into spears, but to ring the same changes from church bells to cannon is another interesting fact The Newark Star gives a little insight into what has been done, and is now being done, along that line, as follows:

From cannon to church bell, and from church bell back to cannon, is the strange vicissitude of certain historic metal, as one of the results of the war. It has been decreed that the Bummerin, in the steeple of St. Stephen's, Vienna, is to go to the foundry to be melted and recast into artillery. The bell, made from cannon taken from the Turks in the defense of Vienna 232 years ago, for two centuries announced the great feasts of the church, but its vibrations shook the structure so perilously that it has not been rung for twenty-five years. Like our Liberty Bell, it is a voiceless but cherished relic. Its fate now is to return from the functions of peace and love to those of destruction and hatred. In fact, every church bell in Austria disused in recent years is to be given up to the exigencies of war.

But this is not without precedent. In the war of the American Revolution church bells were taken down to be cast into cannon. During the French Revolution many of the churches were stripped of their bells for the same purpose. Holland, in her war for independence against Spain turned many of her church bells into cannon. Probably when the present European was ends there will be thousands of churches bereft of their bells and the cannon used in the war will be utilized for metal to restore them.

DISTRIBUTION OF CHARITY.

Misha E. Applebaum, founder of the Humanitarian Cult, in an address in New York [illegible] that there are 5,408 organized charities in the United States which make annual reports, with receipts of $118,379,859 and payments of $111,439,155 leaving a surplus of more than $7,000,000. The running expenses he found to be $94,658,836, thus giving the poor $16,839,319.

The Washington Herald in commenting on the above says:

If these figures are correct they indicate that the supplying of relief to the needy is a most extravagantly conducted business and that the country's contribution to charity is out of all proportion to the benefits actually conferred upon those for whom it is intended. If the cost of administration and investigation is $6 for every $1 distributed in relief. the money is apparently being diverted from the purpose for which it is contributed, unless, indeed, those employed are to be regarded as recipients of charity.

Forty years ago a Bible Society held a meeting in Alexandria. The reports showed that it cost $2.50 to place a Bible which cost 25 cents.

References in the English press to the dispatch of a Japanese army to Europe has aroused fresh interest in the subject in Tokyo. The best military opinion seems to be agreed that there are serious concrete objctions to an expedition, while public opinion will not tolerate any risk of defeat owing to the insufficient forces or the probability of the Japanese troops being swallowed up in the huge armies now in the field in Europe.

The Rome correspondent of the London Morning Post cables that he is informed that Germany is making two more diplomatic moves against the allies. Germany's condition is that the two countries shall enter into the European war at a moment convenient to herself, and that Spain shall give her that part of Morocco which she had marked out as German at the time of the Agadir affair.

His brother dealt the snake a killing blow and then began to suck out the poison, which he accomplished with satisfactory results.

DUEL IN THE AIR

English Lieutenant Killed in Single-handed Combat

London, Oct. 15—Flight Lieut. Lord one of the best known aviators in England, was killed in a single-handed combat with the Zeppelin that attacked Margate on September 15. According to spectators who witnessed the uneven duel between Zeppelin and aeroplane, Lord circled around his huge opponent three times, firing a machine gun.

Tongues of flames spurted from the sides of the Zeppelin. but the German bullets missed their marks as Lord zigzagged and volplaned. As he steadied his machine for a final fusillade the German gunner got the range .

The aeroplane crumpled up before the blast of bullets and dropped, a heap of wreckage, with the dead aviator beneath it, at the feet of the horrified spectators upon the beach.

The Zeppelin hovered for a few minutes over the town and then disappeared.

The British public is still unaware of the tragic end of Lord, so closely are incidents of this kind guarded by the censor.

CUT GIRL'S THROAT

Jealous Lover Nearly Severs Windpipe of Miss Marie W. Harwood at Elkins, W. Va.

Cumberland, Md., Oct 15—William C Cook, formerly of Frostburg, a traveling freight agent of the Coal and Coke Railroad, Wednesday night, at Elkins, W. Va., in a moment of insane jealously cut the throat of Miss Marie W. Harwood, aged 22, because it is alleged, she refused to marry him. Cook is a son of City Councilman Cook, of Frostburg, and bore a splendid reputation. He is 26 years old and well known in Cumberland, Miss Harwood was taken to the Davis Memorial Hospital at Elkins, where her condition is critical.

Miss Harwood attended a motion-picture performance Wednesday night with Cook. Returning to the residence of her sister, Mrs. Charles Ritter, with whom Miss Harwood made her home, the couple talked together in the parlor for more than an hour. About 11 o'clock Cook started to leave and Miss Harwood accompanied him to the front door. As they reached the hall, Cook turned out the lights, and putting his left arm about Miss Harwood's neck, he drew her to him and with his right hand took out a sharp penknife, or razor, and drew the blade across her throat, almost severing her windpipe.

Cook then fled from the house, while Miss Harwood fell to the floor. Some minutes later Mrs. Ritter was attracted to the hall, where she found her sister lying on the floor in a pool of blood, with her throat gashed and with cuts about the shoulder and the hands. Mrs. Ritter immediately summoned aid, and Miss Harwood was taken to the Davis Memorial Hospital where doctors operated on her in the hope of saving her life. Her windpipe was held together by a bare thread.

The authorities, city and county, were immediately notified and posses were organized by the chief of police and sheriff, L. L. Marsteller, of Randolph county. All Wednesday night the posses scoured the surrounding county in a search for Cook.

Cook has been a suitor of Miss Harwood for about two years and was a warm personal friend of her family. Miss Harwood is reported to have been engaged to be married to another man.

CORN LIMPERS! USE "GET-IT" AND SMILE

Corns Come Right Off, Clean and Quick! You Needn't Limp, or Fuss With Your Corns Any More!

What's the use of spoiling a good time for yourself by limping around with fierce corns? It's one of the easiest things in the world, now, to get rid of them. "Gets-It" does it the new way. That's why "Gets-It" has become the corn remedy of America, the biggest selling corn remedy in the world, preferred by millions. Do you remember that toe-eating salve you tried, that sticky tape, that toe-bundling bandage, the gouging you-ve done with knives, razors and scissors? Well now, forget them all. No more fussing, no more pain. Whenever you use simple, easy "Gets-It", the corn is doomed, sure. So is every callus, wart or bunion. Never cut corns or calluses, it makes them grow that much faster and increases the danger of blood poison. No cutting is necessary by using "Gets-It," Use it tonight and end your corny existence.

"Gets-It" is sold by all druggist, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence and Co., Chicago.

TWO KILLED FOUR INJURED

Result of Automobile Accident in Washington County, Md.

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 15—Two dead, four injured, two probably fatally, as a result of automobile accident in Washington county yesterday.

Earl Cromer, aged 30, of Hagerstown, is dead, and his wife and their five-year-old child, Donald, are at the Washington County Hospital in a most serious condition and it is probable that both will die.

Robert Hill, of Midland, Md., is dead, having died of shock following the overturning of an automobile in which he was riding.

Mr. and Mrs. Cromer and their son yesterday morning at about 10 o'clock, set out to go to Fairview, where Mr. Cromer's father lives, with a motorcycle with a side car attachment. About four miles west of Hagerstown their motor-cycle was struck by the large touring car of Jonathan Jenkins, of Frostburg, which contained five men.

Cromer and his wife and child were hurled from their frail machine and horribly injured. Cromer sustained a broken leg and a broken arm and numerous cuts about the body; his wife received a fractured skull and other injuries and the child had its leg crushed and also was badly cut. Mr. Cromer died at the hospital yesterday afternoon, and the child is said to be in a dying condition, and the mother is not expected to live.

Two men in the Jenkins car, which ran into the stable of John Braguniер, were so badly injured that they were taken to the Washington County Hospital. They are. Mr. Jeffries, and Mr. Nieve, both of Frostburg. Their injuries are not of a serious nature.

The accident happened on a very steep hill, the automobile crashing the motor-cycle was on the proper side of the road.

WAR CRIPPLES TWO MILLION.

New York, Oct. 15. —There are now 2,000,000 men in Europe who have suffered the loss of limbs, faculties, or both, as a result of injury in the war, declared Frank B. Gilberth, of Providence, R. I., who has just returned from Germany, where he has been studying methods for giving employment to cripples. Mr. Gilbreth, has been requested by Germany to instruct a corps of teachers how to enable crippled fighting men to become productive members of society after the war.

A paper by Mr. Gilbreth, read last night before the Society of American Engineers said that the problem of designing machines for cripples must be solved in the near future.

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated, prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house; and unless,

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or established a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, or discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax, which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.
